

FEBRUARY NEWSLETTER

January kept us wrapped up in layers and waterproofs but we still managed to keep the course open with just one stormy day preventing any play! Let's hope we're in for better weather in February and at least we have the lighter days ahead. The clubhouse will now be open from 8:30am until 4pm.

Date for your diary: Thursday 13 February - Club AGM at 7:30pm to be held in the Clubhouse. Nominations of positions are on the noticeboard.

MENS CAPTAIN

A Message from your Captains

This is my final newsletter and so it's time to reminisce. Thank you to David Neil for inviting me to be his vice and to have the opportunity to become Captain of Casterton Golf Club, a place where I have enjoyed many great times and met many warm and welcoming fellow golfers.

During my year as Captain I have enjoyed many events, the friendly games and competitions both individual, shotgun starts and for the team, culminating with the Club winning the Ingleborough Trophy for only the fourth occasion. Thanks to everyone who joined in with the Away Day to Eden Golf Club. I hope you all enjoyed guessing how many shots Alan and I took to play all seven courses on Arran, almost as much as I did playing them and Steve Joel for claiming the prize for the nearest total. Another super experience was playing a round with Jeremy Ellwood from Golf Monthly, we await his write-up on the course due for publication in the next few months.

I wish Alan Eccles and his vice-captain Stuart McPhillips every success over the next couple of years. And I would like to end by saying to all members not to dismiss any offer to take on such a role, we all have to pull together to enable the club to function well. Thanks to the team at Casterton for making so many occasions run smoothly and keep the course in such great condition. Thanks to the committee, especially to Lady Captain, Angela Cherry, who has been a pleasure to work closely alongside.

Regards Roger

LADY CAPTAIN

I have thoroughly enjoyed my year as Lady Captain and the support of you, and your participation in competitions and social events has been wonderful and I should like to thank you all for this. At the AGM on 13th February I shall be handing over to Katie and I should like to take this opportunity to wish both the incoming Captains, Katie and Alan, a thoroughly enjoyable year in office and to wish all members great golf in the season ahead. Angela
